

St Andrew's, Chesterton Lent 2010

A five-week course for Lent Beginning during the week 22-26 February

The five-part course uses clips from the film Billy Elliot alongside Bible readings, prayer and group activities to help us reflect on the meaning of 'vocation'. The course reinforces the idea of vocation as much more than a calling 'to be a vicar' – it stresses that all Christians are called to explore their gifts and passions, and to use those in the service of the Church and the wider world.

The course

Written by Kate Bruce, a chaplain at the University of Durham, and Canon Robert Warren, former Team Rector of St Thomas' in Sheffield, the course is the fourth in a series exploring how to apply Biblical teaching to daily life.

Which group to join?

You are invited below to express your preference(s). Based on responses we will suggest a group for you to attend but you can opt elsewhere if you wish.

You (and the group) will benefit most if you manage to attend all the sessions, but don't worry if this is not possible (and you might, for instance, be able to go along to another group for one week to avoid missing a session).

Please return this slip to Nick at the Vicarage (or e-mail the information to vicar@standrews-chesterton.org) by Friday 12 February. Group membership will be confirmed on Sunday 14 February.
