

September - 3 October 2018. The standard of English spoken by the Heidelbergers is very good, so knowledge of German is not necessary. If you are interested in joining this group, please contact Margaret and Ian Nimmo-Smith on C 778667, email ian.nimmosmith@standrews-chesterton.org or at church. It is really a most enjoyable experience for people of all ages and many wonderful friendships have formed over the years.

While many people know of the twinning with Heidelberg, far fewer know of our second twin city – Szeged in southern Hungary. The Cambridge Szeged Society runs a comprehensive social and cultural programme of talks and concerts and other events throughout the year and in 2017 celebrated the 30th Anniversary of twinning. The Szeged University Choir will be visiting Cambridge between 7 and 11 March 2018, and will be performing at Wolfson College at a free lunchtime concert on 10 March – do come along! We are appealing for local families to provide Bed and Breakfast for the Szeged University choir members for the 4 nights they are in Cambridge 7/8/9/10 March – if you can help, please contact Simon Boyd or Julia Seiber Boyd on C 506064 or jms1695134@gmail.com

Colour and Light dominate the thought of one of the most remarkable medieval thinkers, Robert Grosseteste. Later Bishop of Lincoln, Grosseteste (c.1170-1253) was one of the most dazzling minds of his generation, church leader, political advisor, theologian, teacher, and scientist. Indeed, in a series of works from c.1195 to c.1228 Grosseteste explored natural phenomena from cosmology to the rainbow. A key part of his thought focuses on light and colour: light the building block of the Universe, colour its embodiment in transparent media. Bringing together scientists, medieval specialists and artists, the Ordered Universe Research Project is dedicated to new analyses of Grosseteste's works. So, if you want to find out about the medieval big bang, and the

Many of us know that Cambridge is twinned with Heidelberg and that there are regular contacts between the two city councils. Less well known is the programme of exchanges operated by Churches Together in Cambridge for many years. Every two years guests from each city in turn are hosted and entertained for a few days. The next visit planned is for the Heidelbergers to come to us from 29
