St Andrew's News

New Lorna writes: I attended a Lambeth Palace Garden Party on 23 July with other women priests, at the invitation of Archbishop Justin Welby. It was a happy occasion celebrating 25 years since the first ordinations of women priests in the Church of England in 1994. We enjoyed the garden and the shade of its ancient trees on one of the hottest days of the year and were glad that chairs and tables had thoughtfully been provided for us in the shade and that we were given a generous supply of cool drinks. The Archbishop warmly welcomed us and spoke of the wide acceptance of our ministry and of the more recent development of women bishops. He apologised that it had all taken so long. It was heart-warming to meet and greet friends from the past who had shared so much. Most of us were, by the nature of the event, quite elderly: I counted nine in wheelchairs and there must have been some who were unable to attend. I was glad to be there and to sense again the privilege it has been to serve in that first cohort.

Maggie and Toby would like to say a huge thank you to everyone for your kind farewell messages, gifts, donations and words. It was wonderful to celebrate with many of you on our wedding day and we thank you for your prayers as we prepare to move to Bristol to begin training for ordination and a new job.

A new group looking at religious poetry (led by Peter Hilken) will meet on alternate Tuesday mornings at 10.30am in the hall annexe, starting 8 October. Sessions will focus on the themes of creation, faith, hope, etc and we will consider how best to read the poems. For information contact <peter.hilken@ntlworld.com> or tel 709769.

Mission and Giving update: Unseen UK

St Andrew's PCC gives regularly to a number of partners. One of these is Unseen UK. They work with victims of human trafficking and modern slavery in the UK, and also with government and other organisations to prevent trafficking, support victims and raise awareness of modern slavery. Unseen have just launched a new impact report outlining what they've done in past the 10 years since they started, including setting up the National Modern Slavery Helpline and an app to help people spot potential signs of slavery around them. For more information, go to their website: www.unseenuk.org They often share videos of thanks and stories from survivors on their Instagram and Facebook - search 'Unseen UK' to find them.

Maggie Tate-Druiff on behalf of St Andrew's Mission and Giving Committee (more members are very welcome - if you are interested in mission, giving and helping steward our resources, speak to Sharon Neufeld or one of the clergy)

News from the recent PCC Meeting

We are planning to book accommodation at Belsey Bridge for a Parish Weekend in the autumn of 2020. We will publish the dates as soon as the booking has been confirmed.

Our new ministry experience scheme participant is Hannah Fytche who will join us in September, focusing on youth work alongside Connor Kennedy who has been reappointed for a further year as a Youth For Christ worker.

Work on renovating the organ will start in the church in January 2020, although various components will be built off-site before then. The total cost will be about £130,000 plus reclaimable VAT. Generous donations and grants amounting to £109,000 have already been received, or are promised. We are appealing for further donations to cover the shortfall of £21,000. There will be an opportunity on Sunday 6 October to say thank you to John Marsh for his long and valued contribution to music at St Andrew's.

Income to the end of April was £2700 down compared with last year. Please do review your giving and sign up to the direct debit parish giving scheme, if you have not already done so.
